This finding aid, prepared under the direction of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association, has been reproduced by the National Archives as part of its program of facilitating the use of records in its custody.

The microfilm described in this list has been deposited in the National Archives by the American Historical Association and may be identified as Microcopy No. T-177. It may be consulted at the National Archives. A price list appears on the last page. Those desiring to purchase microfilm should write to the Exhibits and Publications Branch, National Archives, Washington 25, D. C.

Some of the papers reproduced on the microfilm referred to in this and other guides of the same series may have been of private origin. The fact of their seizure is not believed to divest their original owners of any literary property rights in them. Anyone, therefore, who publishes them in whole or in part without permission of their authors may be held liable for infringement of such literary property rights.

THE AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION (AHA)
COMMITTEE FOR THE STUDY OF WAR DOCUMENTS

This is part of a series of guides prepared by the American Historical Association listing records microfilmed at Alexandria, Va., by the American Historical Association Microfilming Project.

An American Committee for the Study of War Documents was established in 1955 as a private group of scholars interested in documentary research and especially in the microfilming of records of foreign origin kept in American depositories. In 1956, the American Committee became a committee of the American Historical Association. Its present chairman (1959) is Professor Oron J. Hale, University of Virginia, who was preceded by Dean Reginald H. Phelps, Harvard University, and Professor Lynn M. Case of the University of Pennsylvania. An initial Ford Foundation grant and additional funds provided by the Old Dominion Foundation and the Lilly Endowment enabled the Committee to undertake the cataloguing and microfilming of declassified German records in the custody of the World War II Records Division of the National Archives (previously TAGO, Departmental Records Branch), at Alexandria, Virginia.

The plans for screening and microfilming of these materials were prepared by a Subcommittee on Microfilming under the Chairmanship to the end of 1956 of Professor E. Malcolm Carroll, Duke University, and his successor, Dr. Fritz T. Epstein, The Library of Congress. Professor Gerhard L. Weinberg of the University of Michigan directed the microfilming team in Alexandria in 1956/57 which is now under the supervision of Dr. Dagmar Horna Perman.

The American Historical Association expresses its appreciation for the cooperation given to its Committee for the Study of War Documents by the staffs of the National Archives, especially its World War II Records Division, as well as the U.S. Department of the Army.

This Guide is one of a series of finding aids describing those declassified seized German records deposited at the World War II Records Division, National Archives, that have been microfilmed by the Microfilming Project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association. The Guide contains the text of data sheets identifying records filmed. A copy of the data sheets has been filmed as a target sheet at the beginning of each roll of film.

The present Guide covers 52 rolls of film of records of the Reichsluftfahrtministerium (National Archives World War II Records Division, Record Group 1005). This collection consists primarily of documents relating to production of airplanes and weapons for military airplanes, their testing, and the allocation of materials for their production. Also included are documents on administrative matters in the Ministry and publications concerning airplanes and their production. Most of the folders come from the files of the Reichsluftfahrtministerium's Generalluftzeugmeister and his Technisches Amt. There are also documents from the files of various aircraft factories (Junkers, Focke-Wulf, Messerschmitt, etc.) and from several Erprobungsstellen der Luftwaffe (Rechlin, Travemünde, Tarnowitz). The files cover primarily the 1930's and W.W. II. Only a few of the documents date from W.W. I and the 1920's. Those come from the files of the Luftarchiv of the Reichsluftfahrtministerium and from the Bavarian Government. They deal with war contracts, testing of equipment, personnel of the air corps etc. during W.W. I, and with training of pilots, civilian air travel, aerial sport clubs etc., during the 1920's. Related records may be found in T-321 (Records of the German Air Force High Command).

In this record group a block of material (30 linear feet) containing blueprints and charts was not filmed, as well as 2,350 folders of purely technical material concerning the production and use of aircraft, and some routine administrative correspondence.

The terms "Serial" and "Roll" in this Guide refer to the sequence of the film. The "Item" number is identification symbol on the original folder within the captured records collection. "Provenance" indicates, where ascertainable, the archival origin of the documents whose description follows. The symbol "FT" means that the folder has been filmed throughout, the symbol "FS" denotes that the folder has been filmed selectively. "1st frame" gives the frame number of the first page of the folder. Every exposure has been given a frame number consecutively throughout the filming operation. The "Notes" provide a general idea of the nature of the materials but should not be taken as exhaustive descriptions. When the German file number could be ascertained, it has been included. The nature of the records filmed makes it necessary for researchers to check the whole guide.

The microfilms of these records are deposited in the National Archives, Washington 25, D.C., as microcopy T-177, and should be requested by adding the roll numbers to "T-177."
